Item 8.01. Other Events

On August 9, 2005 (the "Closing"), ABHI-Crockett, Inc. ("ABHIC"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Alexander & Baldwin, Inc. ("A&B"), together with the other shareholders and option holders (collectively with ABHIC, "Sellers") of C&H Sugar Company, Inc. ("C&H"), conveyed all of their ownership interests in C&H to American Sugar Refining, Inc. ("Purchaser") pursuant to a Stock Purchase Agreement among Purchaser, C&H and the Sellers dated August 2, 2005 ("Agreement").

On December 24, 1998, ABHIC had transferred the assets and liabilities associated with the C&H business to C&H and retained a minority equity ownership interest in C&H. Following that 1998 transaction, ABHIC's ownership interests in C&H comprised 36 percent of C&H's Common Stock, 40 percent of C&H's Senior Cumulative Series C Preferred Stock and 100 percent of C&H's 12.5 percent Senior Cumulative Exchangeable Series A Preferred Stock. No dividends or distributions were ever paid to C&H's shareholders subsequent to the December 1998 transaction. During 2004, A&B sold approximately 92 percent of the sugar it produced at its Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar (HC&S) division, to C&H, both directly and through an intermediary marketing cooperative.

Under the terms of the Agreement, virtually the entire purchase price was applied to the repayment of C&H's outstanding debt, a portion of which was held by entities affiliated with C&H's majority shareholder, Citicorp Venture Capital, Ltd. The remaining unpaid subordinated debt of C&H and cumulative unpaid interest on that debt was forgiven, and only a nominal amount was paid to the Sellers (including ABHIC) for their equity interests.

In June 2005, as noted in Item 2 of A&B's 2005 second quarter Form 10-Q, A&B recorded a loss of $2.2 million to reduce the value of its investment in C&H to the expected realizable value. With the exception of immaterial legal and transaction costs, no further losses are expected to be recognized as a result of this transaction. A&B expects to have lower tax payments of approximately $13 million as a result of recognizing losses from the C&H investment for tax purposes. About 40 percent of this amount will be realized in 2005 and the remainder will be realized in future years as A&B has offsetting capital gains. A&B anticipates that it will generate sufficient capital gains to fully realize the tax benefit of the capital loss over time.

As described in Notes 5 and 13 to the consolidated financial statements included in Item 8 of A&B's 2004 Form 10-K and in Financial Note 3 of Item 1 of A&B's 2005 second quarter Form 10-Q, A&B had caused to be issued a $3 million letter of credit to cover certain unpaid workers' compensation claims under C&H's workers' compensation self insurance program. Pursuant to the Agreement, the Purchaser has agreed to obtain the release of the letter of credit for workers' compensation claims within 90 days after the closing, and to reimburse A&B for any payment or draw incurred before such release.

The operational agreements between C&H and A&B and its subsidiaries and affiliates are not affected by the sale of ABHIC's remaining ownership interest in C&H. A&B expects that this sale will strengthen C&H, operationally and financially, thereby helping to ensure the viability of the largest customer of A&B's agribusiness operations on Maui.
